BIOGRAPHY

Christine Holman

Christine is a non-executive director with over 30 years of experience across media, property, industrial, infrastructure and technology sectors.

She is on the Boards of two ASX companies, AGL Ltd and Collins Foods Ltd, one private company, Indara Pty Ltd, which is a joint venture between Australian Super and Singtel, and two not-for-profit Boards, The State Library of NSW Foundation and The McGrath Foundation.

As a director, Christine has worked on influencing greater engagement and action on ESG and decarbonisation, AI, digitisation and cyber security to embed the associated risks and opportunities in corporate strategy.

Through her previous executive capacity as CFO and commercial director of Telstra Broadcast Services, Christine brings a deep understanding of legacy and emerging technologies and digital transformations.

During her time in private investment management, Christine assisted management and the Board of investee companies on strategy development, mergers and acquisitions, leading due diligence teams, managing large complex commercial negotiations, and developing growth opportunities.

Christine has an MBA and Postgraduate Diploma in Management from Macquarie University, is a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD) and is a member of the AICD Corporate Governance Committee.
